

MSPA Spoof: mspa-worldwide.biz

Monday, 23 August 2010

If you've been here before, you've probably seen us explain that offers containing the phrase 'shopping and dinning out' are quite prevalent here. That's because they're bogus. This isn't the first time someone's tried to align themselves with the Mystery Shopping Providers Association (MSPA).

The domain this scammer uses in his email address, mspa-worldwide.biz, is an obvious imitation of the real MSPA (<http://www.mysteryshop.org>), and doesn't even have an active Web site. This guy doesn't even have his whole scammy infrastructure in place and he's already eager to earn those illegitimate bucks by convincing you to wire your money. Those checks they want you to cash? Bogus.

Let me explain to you what it entails

What is a mystery shopper?

A mystery shopper is like being 007 at the mall. Mystery shoppers must complete their assignments and go un-detected. Mystery Shoppers receive assignments consisting of a variety of business types such as:
restaurants, food chains, automobile dealerships, retail stores, and more.

Businesses benefit from the services of a mystery shopper because they report their unbiased review from a customer standpoint. This enables the business to identify problems that could result in a unhappy customer and loss of sales. As you can see, mystery shoppers have a great responsibility and are paid accordingly.

As a Mystery Shopper you can: earn up to $200 per assignment have a flexible schedule and hours pick and choose what assignments you want bring your kids with you on assignments. work part time or full time.
get free merchandise get paid for dining out stay at hotels for free get paid for going to the movies and much more...

We will be sending you Travellers cheques or Money Orders for any of your assignments which you will cash at your financial institution and you use the money to carry out the assignment. You do not have to use any money from your pockets. So We will provide you the money for all your assignments.
